

July 2016 Photo Album

July was a fun month at Micah. We were visited by some friends; celebrated Lempira, a national hero of Honduras; went on a field trip to a hydroelectric dam; and celebrated a few birthdays! We invite you to share in these moments, as well as a few others, by checking out the photos in this month's album.

In Our Micah T-shirts

This month, Micah supporter and friend Bob Bewley challenged the Micah boys and supporters to take fun photos in their Micah t-shirts. For each pic taken, he donated $5 to our ministry. Thanks to Bob and everyone who participated! Here are some photos we took; the guys really got creative for the challenge.

Love Them Well

Although we've been doing street ministry for years, every time we see these kids is difficult, and we always learn something new about them. We'll never be used to the reality of children living on the streets, and we are committed to showing them God's love and helping them toward brighter futures. We do this through continued efforts to build relationships with these kids, encouraging them to make healthy decisions and hopefully join Micah, where we can care for them daily. As we continue to love these children, we thank the Lord for staff members who are committed to supporting these kids daily--with both joyful and sacrificial love--as well as for the continued prayer of supporters like you. God is faithful!

Celebrating Lempira

Near the end of June, Honduran school children celebrate the Cacique Lempira, the national hero of Honduras. Each year, we celebrate Lempira and Honduran culture with a skit about Lempira's life as well as other fun activities like singing traditional songs and eating traditional food. It's a great time, and the boys having fun learning in such an engaging way.

Field Trips and Fun

We had such fun visiting El Cajon hydroelectric dam! Built in the 80s and soaring over 900 feet, this dam provides power to over a quarter of Honduras. We had a great tour of the inner workings of the dam and got to hear about how it generates power. Amazing day!

Life at Micah

We are truly thankful for every day the Lord gives us at Micah. We are a family, and although times aren't always easy, there is always room for joy and fun. Here are a few more snapshots of life at Micah. We hope you enjoy them! Top Right: We celebrate Daniel's birthday. He is such a positive addition to the Micah family, and we're so thankful for his life.
